

Clinical Categories Explained

It's important to understand the level of cover your hospital insurance policy provides. The table below provides a complete list of Clinical Categories along with the corresponding Scope of Cover, as set by the Australian Government. The Scope of Cover explains the types of treatments that are included and excluded for each Clinical Category. The information included in the table is subject to change by the Australian Government from time to time.

The Scope of Cover also includes "Common" and "Support" treatments (which are also set by the Australian Government) provided in conjunction with the treatments included under each Clinical Category.

To help you better understand your hospital policy and the level of cover it provides, please review your hospital or combination policy Fact Sheet (with particular reference to the hospital table and 'Important Information' section) together with the table below.

IMPORTANT: To understand what your out-of-pocket costs will be for a specific treatment we recommend you obtain quotes from your doctors and hospitals and contact us for details before booking or proceeding with treatment.
