VIDEO NDIS Client Holly

I like helping people because, like, people have always helped me. I want to be a counsellor, like a child counsellor. They tell all of their problems and stuff and then you give them advice. Just to give back.

My dream for Holly is to live as independently as she can as an adult and get all the help she needs whenever she needs it and to always be happy.

I really like them because they help out a lot and they do a really good job. When they are doing her personal care, they always make her feel comfortable. We waited two years for her wheelchair. Now, we won't have any of that. It will be available whenever we need.

Finally get the help that we need.
